Encore Legal Solutions Recognized as a Leading Provider of Electronic Discovery Services

PHOENIX, AZ – 07/10/07. Encore Legal Solutions, a leading national provider of electronic discovery and related services, has been ranked as a “Top 10” overall service provider in the 2007 Socha-Gelbmann Electronic Discovery Survey.

“The 2007 survey results demonstrate our continued growth in the eDiscovery marketplace, as we were rated a Top 20 service provider last year,” said Gregory J. Mazares, Encore’s President and CEO. “We have made great progress in establishing our position as a knowledge-based provider of electronic discovery, Web hosting and related services.”

In the past 12 months, Encore has added a number of highly experienced litigation professionals to its team. The company has hired Hemanth Salem as Vice President of Professional Services, Trevor Campion as Senior Vice President of Operations, James Ramsey as Vice President of Electronic Discovery Solutions, Warren Kruse, author of “Computer Forensics: Incident Response Essentials,” as Vice President of Data Forensics and Analytics, and Michael Purcell as Senior Discovery Consultant. Overall the company has added hundreds of years of litigation and electronic discovery experience to its core group of expert professionals including Kris Taylor, Steve Moore, and Dene Halle.

“We believe our experience is a key reason for the high ranking,” added Mazares. “Corporations and law firms are at a clear advantage when they can work with people who have already faced similar problems and we are committed to helping our clients benefit from our extensive body of knowledge and experience.”

E-discovery pioneers George Socha and Tom Gelbmann launched the Socha- Gelbmann Electronic Discovery Survey to examine the electronic discovery industry. This fifth annual edition surveys 115 organizations that provide or consume electronic discovery services, including a cross-section of leading law firms and large corporations.
